

Aimee Bedoy Murphy. *Consistent.

Aimee Murphy was born in 1988. She's young. She is also a founder and the Executive Director of Life Matters Journal, the leading consistent life ethic magazine.

Aimee was a teenager when a personal conversion led her to the cause against abortion, and she came to support and defend the consistent life ethic during her time in university.

During her undergraduate studies, Aimee worked to successfully change the pro-life organization on her college campus to one that centered on equal respect for the dignity of all human life. She helped to facilitate change in the pro-life dialogue on many college campuses. As someone whose efforts began in anti-abortion work, Aimee believes that "making the pro-life movement more accessible correlates directly to the level of consistency in the ethic of its members."

Through her work with Life Matters Journal, Aimee intends to reach people all over the globe with the consistent message of human worth. The Journal's mission statement includes her words, "We must realize that the most important issue of our day is the neglect of the dignity of human life. Those on all sides of the political spectrum and from all angles of belief and religion should be able to put down their arms and join together on these issues.”

An important tool for reaching people through the internet and social media, Life Matters Journal is succeeding in bringing fruitful discourse to those who need the message most: our youth. Aimee believes of young people today that “the Consistent Life Ethic is more attractive... than following party line politics.”

Though still quite young, Aimee Murphy has helped to invigorate people within the consistent life movement. Grateful to those who came before her, her life’s work is dedicated to bringing the message of life to all parts of society. “I try to bring passion to the cause of protecting all human life through education and discourse, one heart at a time.”

Aimee is direct and outspoken. “If we are truly pro-life, we cannot stand idly by while our human brethren are slaughtered, tortured, abused, and written off as ‘collateral damage.’ I believe we have the responsibility to take a stand against all aggressive violence towards humanity. And you might be surprised how, when you take that position, walls will drop, people will listen to what you have to say, and how much more effectively you can change hearts and minds.”

Aimee Murphy is consistent. Will you join her in advancing the protection of all life?

We are committed to the protection of life, which is threatened in today’s world by war, abortion, poverty, racism, capital punishment and euthanasia. We believe that these issues are linked under a ‘consistent ethic of life’. We challenge those working on all or some of these issues to maintain a cooperative spirit of peace, reconciliation, and respect in protecting the unprotected.
